How we saved Christmas

Once upon a time, there was two elves who worked for Santa Claus named First Name of a Person and First Name of a Person. They were Number years old and worked in a workshop in Portland, Oregon.

They were running slow on making Christmas Noun and they were worried. They knew First Name of a Person, who was also an elf therapist, could help them with their emotional problems.

First Name of a Person told them she was to busy with Mrs. Claus and her marriage problems so she would come later. In his stress, First Name of a Person spilled magic Noun on a stuffed Noun and it came alive! "Happy BIRTHDAY." the Noun said. "My name is First Name of a Person." she said.

"Article Article.." First Name of a Person said. "I have a message to you from Santa Claus. He is very sick and in despair. He thinks Christmas will be canceled this year!!" she said. Quickly First Name of a Person thought of a plan. He decided HE was going to deliver the presents this year. He had to bring one person... First Name of a Person will go with me he decided. Secretly he rounded up the reindeer and got the sleigh ready, and off they went. The rest of the night was perfect with a few minor problems like the reindeer bickering and so on. Finally they arrived back to the north pole and celebrated for their successes.
