

Duck and Cover

1. Adverb
2. Noun - Plural
3. Preposition
4. Verb - Past Tense
5. Noun - Plural
6. Noun - Plural
7. Verb - Base Form
8. Part Of Body
9. Pronoun
10. Interjection
11. Verb - Base Form
12. Adjective
13. Preposition
14. Noun - Plural
15. Adjective
16. Noun
17. Noun
18. Verb - Present Ends In Ing
19. Adverb
20. Interjection
21. Noun
22. Pronoun
23. Color

Duck and Cover

Bullets _____ Adverb flew by my head as I ran for the communication tower. Ever since the war started, I had been wondering the same phrase: Will I make it back? This however, was my most dangerous mission yet. I had to plant a bomb on the communication tower, causing the enemy troops to lose their _____ Noun - Plural. They would be a disorganized wreck. Just then, I reached the tower. I pulled out a wad of C4 and placed it _____ Preposition the leg of the tower, then _____ Verb - Past Tense it. When I finished, I went to the wall, stopped, and listened for any sounds that could mean that there was an ambush. From the wall, I heard the crunch of _____ Noun - Plural under _____ Noun - Plural. By the sounds of it, about 5 men were coming to subdue me. I pulled out my pistol and crouched in a position that would be easy to _____ Verb - Base Form from. The first man stuck his _____ Part of Body out to look around the corner. CRACK! _____ Pronoun crumpled to the ground. Then, I was forced to defend myself as the other men charged out. The men crumpled to the ground. Horrified with what I had done, I continued past them, then pain blossomed from my leg, _____ Interjection, that hurt! I fell, stunned, and saw one of the men I had shot holding a pistol aimed at me, then he passed out. The wound wasn't life threatening, but I couldn't _____ Verb - Base Form. I would never make it back to the trench I had come from, but I had to stop the bleeding. I ripped the sleeve off by _____ Adjective jacket, then tied it _____ Preposition my thigh. Soon the bleeding stopped. Relieved of the thought of bleeding out, I had to start worrying about my next problem. I had to make it back. If I didn't go back soon, my commander would send _____ Noun - Plural to save me. Then I realized that I had surprise on my side. The enemy thought I was _____ Adjective. I had to try to stand up and see if I could walk. I stood up slowly, and I knew I needed a new _____ Noun.

My vision narrowed in on a Noun. I shambled over to it and sat down. I used my other sleeve to tie the rifle to my leg as a splint. I tried Verb - Present ends in ING, and there was little pain. I Adverb started for my shelter. Limping as fast as I could, I was on my way. Then I stumbled and fell, but where the ground should be, there was nothing. I slammed into the trench onto my chest. Interjection! I had made it. An explosion rang out, and my Noun got wider. I had succeeded. Then a medic came and Pronoun gave me a shot. Then, everything went Color.