

The Dancing Penguin

1. Noun-Place
2. Adjective
3. Verb - Present Ends In Ing
4. Noun - Plural
5. Preposition
6. Pronoun Plural
7. Adverb- Ends In Ly
8. Verb- Future Tense
9. Cordinating Conjunction
10. Pronoun Plural
11. Interjection
12. Interjection
13. Subortinating Conjunction
14. Adverb- Ends In Ly
15. Adjective
16. Preposition
17. Noun-Place

The Dancing Penguin

One day, in _____ a _____ dancing penguin appeared _____. It climbed on _____ laps and danced _____ the subway, because it was the Dancing Penguin. People wouldn't appreciate its dancing and it felt sad because _____ made fun of its dancing and _____ told it to stop. One day however it became angry and would no longer dance. The people of the subway realized they missed its dancing. They begged it to dance or at least _____, but he refused. But there was a way. They decided to persuade it with spaghetti _____ he would dance once more. _____ went to Italian stores everywhere, but none of them could make spaghetti for penguins. They eventually found one store in a dark alley that made the spaghetti, with fresh fish in it. _____, it smelled delicious and it ate it. _____, how he loved it. It was almost good enough to make up for them making fun of his dancing. It decided that _____ they said sorry he would go penguin with rabies on them. He looked at the anxious people. They realized what it wanted and they apologized _____ before he had a chance to decide to attack them. The _____ penguin started to dance again, and it still dances to this day _____ the subway. And if you go to _____ add if you don't like its dancing, well you better bring something to protect you when it attacks you.