More stories at WordBlanks.com

Health Science Word Libs!

1. Past Tense Verb _____
2. Past Tense Verb _____
3. Past Tense Verb _____
4. Past Tense Verb _____
5. Past Tense Verb _____
6. Past Tense Verb _____
7. Past Tense Verb _____

Health Science Word Libs!

The job I do is to chew. With help from the tongue food is _____Past tense verb_____to the long tube called the esophogus. At the end of the tube, is where the food is _____Past tense verb_____into the stomach. Once the food is _____Past tense verb_____and churned it is called chime. The chime is then _____Past tense verb_____into the small intestine where it is mixed further with insulin ejected from the pancrease. Next, the chime and insulin mixture are swirled around in the small intestine with a substance called bile. Bile is _____Past tense verb_____from the liver into the small intestine. Now the bile, insulin and chime all _____Past tense verb_____together are pushed into the large intestine where the ceacum removes excess water and salt. What is left is waste that gets _____Past tense verb_____down to the rectum and emptied by the anus. What human body system is made from those parts?

©2026 WordBlanks.com · All Rights Reserved.