The Strange Occurrence

Hello, my name is _____ Proper Noun _____ Proper Noun and I'm going to tell you about the _____ Adjective - _____ Ends in EST occurrence I ever had _____ whole life. So here's how it all started, everyday an _____ Adjective _____ Proper Noun _____ Proper Noun cat pounced and purred on my door step. I usually never let the cat in my house because my _____ Proper Noun _____ Proper Noun _____ Proper Noun barks at it and tries to come out of its cage. As I went to open the door a slight bit, the small cat squeezed through and dashed away. I didn't get enough seconds to yell, "Hey, come back!" before he was out of my sight but it was too late, I heard _____ Verb - Present ends in ING and _____ Verb - Present ends in ING sounds I couldn't bear to look. I _____ Adverb ran in my house to find all my furniture destroyed with the cat and my dog _____ Verb - Present ends in ING on the cotton from the sofa. Still to this day, I haven't forgiven my dog or that cat plus I haven't figured out how my dog got out of its cage by itself.

Some people say I'm crazy for _____ Verb - Present ends in ING my dog to a therapist after the incident whereas I say it is necessary since he's more polite. I otherwise don't know what happened to the cat however, when I get my hands on that cat, I'll make it pay. A few months after the incident I noticed giant-sized hairballs and fur all over my front yard every day when returning from work. I also have seen the sky get gloomier like two universes are _____ Verb - Present ends in ING. My dog has been quiet lately too, even around cats when we go for walks in the park. Like yesterday I said, " _____ Conjunction ," when I saw my dog give a roll of yarn to a _____ Noun !!!!

Today,

I scheduled another appointment with my dog's therapist, Mr. Proper Noun and if this doesn't work, I'm sending him to animal control. I really don't want to do but he's pushing my bubble with this whole strange things going on. An hour later, we returned from the therapist and he was totally fine the only problem was, he was trying to let me know something and couldn't show it. Except once we got home; there was an army of cats on our front door step called tribal that came up with a law in the world of pets that dogs and cats can't have a baby together. Finally I figured it out my Noun just wanted me to stand up and show no harm would be caused under my supervision and how I'd make it work out. Subsequently the Noun tribal agreed to let us go, I say to myself "Conjunction?" however on the Preposition somehow I was smiling till the Noun - Plural came home shouting, "Conjunction!" It was Adverb because I didn't have to give my dog to animal control since there wasn't anything wrong with him. So after all this, I finally forgave him with one of our made-up handshakes and that's my strangest occurrence.
