Holiday Candy Land

1.	Adverb
2	Noun

Holiday Candy Land

Adverb	upon a time Queen Frostine decided to leave the Ice Palace to take a walk through Candy Land and visit the kid	ls who lived in the Gingerbread House. She always had the best time there because they were always making	sweet smelling gingerbread treats. However, when she arrived at the gingerbread house, she discoverd that all of the gingerbread boys and girls were missing! She called out to them "Gingerbread boys!
Gingerbread gir	rls! Gingerbread mother!" but no one answered.

She decided to walk over to Lollipop Woods in hope of seeing the fairy, Lolly, who knew just about everyting that happened in the sweet smelling world of Candy Land. Queen Frostine followed the colorful candy path until she saw the tiny fairy Lolly swinging from the brown rootbeer flavored branch of a tree. "Hello Lolly!" she shouted up at the tree. "Have you seen the gingerbread boys and girls? I have come to bake with them _______."

©2025 WordBlanks.com · All Rights Reserved.