More stories at WordBlanks.com

Christmas on the Crisis Unit

1. Adjective - Ends In Est _____

Christmas on the Crisis Unit

I woke up at (time_____) and realized I was at the Wetzel Crisis Unit. (staff name_____) was (verb ending in ing _____) Rise and shine (a mean name you call someone_____) its Christmas day. I rolled myself off of the (a piece of furniture _____) and (past tense verb_____) down the steps. When I walked into the (room in a building _____), I saw (person in this room _____) and (another person in the room_____) sitting down for breakfast. They were eating (adj._____) (your favorite food_____) and (adj._____) (a food you hate_____). They smiled (adj. ending in ly) _____) and said come on over and (verb_____) with us. I decided to sit down and have some (adj_____) (kind of food_____) and a nice (adj. _____) glass of (a liquid_____). It tasted (_____) and I felt as if my (body part_____) might explode. The (staff name_____) came in and said it was time for group and we were going to talk about (Noun_____) in group and that this group would last for (a number_____) hours. As group began to come to a close (staff name_____) came in to start making dinner. He/She announced that for dinner we would be having (adj_____), (a food item_____), (adj._____), (a food item_____) and (adj._____) (food item_____). (Name of person in the room_____) turned a pale shade of (color_____) and said he/she felt like they might (verb_____). After our (adj._____Adjective - Ends in EST_____) dinner Santa Clause came in dressed in (color_____) (article of clothing) and (color_____) (article of clothing_____) and began to (verb_____). He gave everyone a gift. We all got a/an(color_____), (thing_____). And that is how Christmas went at the Wetzel Crisis Unit.

©2026 WordBlanks.com · All Rights Reserved.