The Three Little ?

There was once a family of           Noun - Plural          . The mother           Noun           was very poor, and so she sent her three little           Noun - Plural           out to seek their fortunes. The first that went off met a man with a bundle of straw , and said to him:

"Please, man, give me that straw to build me a           Noun          ."

Which the man did, and the little pig           Verb - Past Tense           a house with it. Presently came along a wolf, and knocked at the door, and said:

"Little           Noun          , little           Noun          , let me come in."

To which the           Noun           answered:

"No, no, by the           Noun           of my chiny chin chin."

The wolf then answered to that:

"Then I'll           Verb - Base Form          , and I'll           Verb - Base Form          , and I'll           Verb - Base Form           your house in."

So he _____
up the little _____.

The second little _____ met a man with a bundle of _____, and said:

"Please, man, give me that _____ to build a house."

Which the man did, and the pig built his house. Then along came the wolf, and said:

"Little _____, little _____, let me come in."

"No, no, by the _____ of my chiny chin chin."

"Then I'll _____, and I'll _____, and I'll _____ your house in."

So he _____, and he _____, and he _____, and he _____, and at last he _____ the house down, and he ate up the little _____.

The

third little Noun met a man with a load of Noun, and said:

"Please, man, give me those Noun to Verb - Base Form a house with."

So the man gave him the Noun - Plural, and he built his house with them. So the wolf came, as he did to the other little Noun - Plural, and said:

"Little Noun, little Noun, let me come in."

"No, no, by the hair of my chiny chin chin."

"Then I'll Verb - Base Form, and I'll Verb - Base Form, and I'll Verb - Base Form your house in."

Well, he Verb - Past Tense, and he Verb - Past Tense, and he Verb - Past Tense and he

Verb - Past Tense, and he Verb - Past Tense and Verb - Past Tense; but he could not get the house down. When he found that he could not, with all his Verb - Present ends in ING and Verb - Present ends in

ING, blow the house down, he said:

"Little Noun, I know where there is a nice field of turnips."

"Where?" said the little Noun.

"Oh, in Mr. Proper Noun Home-field, and if you will be ready tomorrow morning I will call for you, and we will go together, and get some for dinner."

"Very well," said the little Noun, "I will be ready. What time do you mean to go?"

"Oh, at six o'clock."

Well, the little Noun got up at five, and got the turnips before the wolf came (which he did about six) and who said:

"Little Noun, are you ready?"

The little Noun said: "Ready! I have been and come back again, and got a nice potful for Noun."

The wolf felt very angry at this, but thought that he would be up to the little Noun somehow or other, so he said:

"Little _____, I know where there is a nice apple-tree."

"Where?" said the _____.

Well, the little _____ bustled up the next morning at four o'clock, and went off for the apples, hoping to get back before the wolf came; but he had further to go, and had to climb the _____, so that just as he was coming down from it, he saw the wolf coming, which, as you may suppose, frightened him very much.

When the wolf came up he said:

"Little pig, what! are you here before me? Are they nice apples?"

"Yes, very," said the little _____. "I will throw you down one."

And he threw it so far, that, while the wolf was gone to pick it up, the little _____ jumped down and ran home. The next day the wolf came again, and said to the little _____:

"Little _____, there is a fair at _____ this afternoon, will you go?"

"Oh yes," said the _____, "I will go; what time shall you be ready?"

"At three," said the wolf. So the little _____ went off before the time as usual, and got to the fair, and bought a butter-churn, which he was going home with, when he saw the wolf coming. Then he could not tell what to do. So he got into the churn to hide, and by so doing turned it round, and it rolled down the hill with the pig in it, which frightened the wolf so much, that he ran home without going to the fair. He went to the little _____ house, and told him how frightened he had been by a great round thing which came down the hill past him. Then the little _____ said:

"Hah, I frightened you, then. I had been to the fair and bought a butter-churn, and when I saw you, I got into it, and rolled down the hill."

Then the wolf was very angry indeed, and declared he would eat up the little _____, and that he would get down the chimney after him. When the little _____ saw what he was about, he hung on the pot full of water, and made up a blazing fire, and, just as the wolf was coming down, took off the cover, and in fell the wolf; so the little _____ put on the cover again in an instant, _____ him up, and _____ him for supper, and lived happy ever afterwards.
