My pet cat

Once upon a Noun there was a cat. It was an attractive cat. He or she. I'm not sure, was born on top of a watermelon in the middle of the Sahara Deseret. It was a demescctic cat but it lived by the rules of the Adjective . I met it while I was out Noun for poisons cacti. They were indeed poisons. I died, but it's okay I lived. It was like Noun - Plural at first glance, probably because it was the 4th of july and i kidnapped him and brought him to New York. I tried to Verb him Preposition or subordinating conjunction but I couldn't get through the pavement which was weird because that never happened when i used to bury Noun victims, but I remember the ground was Adjective . Maybe Verb - 3rd Person Singular Present a difference. Then at night he magically Verb - Past Tense in my window and we made babies. Turns out he's really hot. The Noun Noun .
