Sierra's Word Libs

When I was about 7 years old my grandma lived in this big white house her and my mom went out to shop for everybody. All my aunts and uncles were playing in the room and I was leaning on the glass and the window flew out. My uncle Josh went out and picked up the window and put it behind the door, it wasn't a pretty good idea because when they got back home they saw it and aw man! They were _____ Verb - Present Tense _____ out cussing and everything everybody was hiding from them two but luckily for me they whooped everybody from oldest to youngest so by the time my mom got to me she as tired (since I the youngest).
