the military

Death is nothing, but to live _____Adjective - Ends in EST_____ and inglorious is to die daily.

The amazing words of _____Adjective - Ends in EST_____ Bonaparte this was a quote that explains the reason why I am here right now telling you my life giving you information that should have never been given away before. There s a great _____Adjective - Ends in EST_____ that I am dead or being _____Adjective - Ends in EST_____ right at this very moment but the truth is I have felt defeat the inglorious defeat, and its like a _____Adjective - Ends in EST_____ beat down, to see your men dead around you,wile you lay on the ground like a helpless fish on the ground flopping with no way to get out of the bright shining _____Adjective - Ends in EST_____ beating on you dying slowly with no way to get out. Well that's how I feel every day knowing that I was defeated,and my friends dead just wishing that I could have done something to help to take down the enemy. But there wasn't there was no way to go back and do those things I should have died for my men helping them to fight to defeat the enemy I should have died out there but I didn't and didn't even think about sacrificing my life, and I think that a man without sacrifice has no honor and doesn't deserve to live.
