Room A-10 and the Chocolate Factory

Mr. Wonka opened the door. _____ Number children and _____ Number grownups pushed their ways in - and oh, what an _____ Describing Word sight it was that now met their eyes!

They were looking down upon a lovely valley. There were _____ color meadows on either side of the valley, and along the bottom of it there flowed a great _____ color river.

What is more, there was a _____ Describing Word waterfall halfway along the river - a steep cliff over which the water curled and rolled in a solid sheet, and then went crashing down into a boiling churning whirlpool of froth and spray.
