More stories at WordBlanks.com

Happy Hooty Day

1. Adjective _____
2. First Name Of A Person _____
3. Adjective _____
4. First Name Of A Person _____
5. Adjective _____
6. First Name Of A Person _____
7. Adjective _____
8. Adjective _____
9. Noun _____
10. Animal (Plural) _____
11. Noun _____
12. Verb - Present Ends In Ing _____
13. Adjective _____
14. Number _____
15. Same Plural Animal _____
16. Same Plural Animal _____
17. Verb _____
18. Same Plural Animal _____
19. Adjective _____
20. Noun _____
21. Verb - Past Tense _____
22. Adjective _____
23. Same Plural Animal _____

24. Adjective _____
25. Verb _____
26. Same Plural Animal _____
27. Same Plural Animal _____
28. Adjective _____
29. Verb - Present Ends In Ing _____
30. Noun - Plural _____
31. Adverb _____
32. Same Plural Animal _____
33. Noun _____
34. Adjective _____
35. Adverb _____
36. Noun - Plural _____
37. Same Plural Animal _____
38. Interjection _____
39. Same Plural Animal _____
40. Interjection _____
41. Same Plural Animal _____
42. Proper Noun _____
43. Adjective _____
44. Adverb _____
45. Same Plural Animal _____
46. Number _____
47. Same Plural Animal _____
48. Adjective _____
49.

Number

Happy Hooty Day

Once upon a time, there were three _____Adjective_____ owls. The first was named _____First Name of a Person_____, and he was a _____Adjective_____, little barn owl. The second was _____First Name of a Person_____, a _____Adjective_____, strong spotted owl. Last came _____First Name of a Person_____, and she was a _____Adjective_____ northern saw-whet. The owls lived together in an old _____Adjective_____ oak _____Noun_____. Each night, they rose to go hunting for _____Animal (plural)_____ in the _____Noun_____ that surrounded their home. One night while out _____Verb - Present ends in ING_____, the owls had a _____Adjective_____ surprise. There in the field before them was an army of _____Number_____ _____Same plural animal_____. Tired of being eaten by the owls all the time, the _____Same plural animal_____ were planning to _____Verb_____ the owls in their tree. The _____Same plural animal_____ had constructed a _____Adjective_____ machine that they could use to attack the owls. Martha said, "We must come up with a _____Noun_____ or we will be _____Verb - Past Tense_____ by these _____Adjective_____ _____Same plural animal_____." "I know, Barbara said, "but are we _____Adjective_____ enough to _____Verb_____ these _____Same plural animal_____?" At that moment, the _____Same plural animal_____ turned a _____Adjective_____ slingshot toward the sky and began _____Verb - Present ends in ING_____ _____Noun - Plural_____ at the three owls. Firing _____Adverb_____, the _____Same plural animal_____ showed their _____Noun_____. The owls, however, were determined to maintain the _____Adjective_____ order of their ecosystem. Swooping _____Adverb_____ toward the field, the owls used their _____Noun - Plural_____ to capture the _____Same plural animal_____. "Oh _____Interjection_____!" shouted the _____Same plural animal_____. "Hip-hip _____Interjection_____" said Doug. We will eat _____Same plural animal_____ cooked with _____Proper Noun_____ tonight! Because owls have such _____Adjective_____ talons, they _____Adverb_____ conquered the _____Same plural animal_____. That night, they enjoyed a feast. Each owl ate _____Number_____ _____Same plural animal_____.

They were so _____Adjective_____ that they slept for _____Number_____ days.

©2026 WordBlanks.com · All Rights Reserved.