Love

If I speak in the $\qquad$ of men or of angels, but do not have love, I am only a resounding $\qquad$ or a clanging $\qquad$ . If I have the gift of prophecy and can fathom all mysteries and all knowledge, and if I have a faith that can move mountains, but do not have love, I am $\qquad$ . If I give all I possess to the poor and give over my $\qquad$ to hardship that I may boast, but do not have love, I gain $\qquad$ .

Love is $\qquad$ , love is $\qquad$ . It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not $\qquad$ . It does not dishonor others, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily $\qquad$ , it keeps no record of $\qquad$ . Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the $\qquad$ . It always $\qquad$ , always trusts, always hopes, always $\qquad$ .

Love never $\qquad$ . But where there are prophecies, they will cease; where there are tongues, they will be stilled; where there is knowledge, it will pass away. For we know in part and we prophesy in part, but when completeness comes, what is in part disappears. When I was a $\qquad$ , I talked like a $\qquad$ , I thought like a $\qquad$ , I reasoned like a $\qquad$ . When I became a $\qquad$ , I put the ways of $\qquad$ behind me. For now we see only a reflection as in a $\qquad$ ; then we shall see face to face. Now I know in part; then I shall know fully, even as I am fully known.

And now these three remain: $\qquad$ , hope and love. But the greatest of these is $\qquad$ .
