One or More Than One

Once upon a time there were 3 little pigs. One little pig liked to look at the more than one in the sky. The second little pig had a pet one. The third little pig drove a shiny red one. All of the little pigs liked to eat more than one. They all lived together in a big house that was made out of many more than one. Sometimes the three little pigs liked to pick more than one together. Sometimes the first and second little pig would pretend to quack like a one, but the third little pig would pretend to bark like a one. Every afternoon the little pigs would go to the park to play with more than one. They always had a good time at the park. At the end of the day the three little pigs always returned home to eat more than one and go to bed. THE END.
