Prince of Peace Christian School

There once was a	school named Prince of Peace in Fremont, CA. There, a group	ofAdjective	students went to school to	,,,, and love their S	Savior - Jesus. One	ce a year, those Adjective	students would take a week to celebrate that their school had the	ne Adjective	privilege of talking about Jesu	s in all of their classrooms.
On the first day, s	tudents dressed up in Adjective pajamas, ate Adject	ive pancakes,
Verb - Base Form	with much enthusiasm in chapel, and started off a penny	war against other
Adjective	classes.
As the second day	came, hairstyles went fromtotoAdjective	, and fashion	went from Adjective	to, as students further got into their school sp	oirit. On top of tha	t, the Adjective	principal, Mr. Dueck, invited a speaker to set the whole school	on fire with scier	nce
Noun-Thing	_, only then to cool us off with dry
When the third da	y rolled around, each class worked together to coordinate their	Adjective	clothes into unison. Some clas	ses dressed in 80's neon clothes, Adjective	striped patte	erns, or Adjective	solid colors.

the fourth day came around, the Noun-Th	was hiding, but the	Noun-Person-Plural	were running fast as Race for Ed kicked off. Students in the	heir Adjective athle	etic apparelverb - P.	ast Tense around our campus with the hopes and dreams of _	Verb - Present ends in ING	money to make our sc	hool even more awesome than it already is! After running an	round for Noun-Time	, classes finished off	their day with a Adjective andAdjective lunc	ch of hot dogs, chips, and _	Adjective-Repeat Twice	bundt cakes!
When Friday arrived, the school	east Tense an amazing we	eek of fun, friendship, a	and their Heavenly
Father, with school spirit wear, anAdject	chapel, and the an	nouncement that the _	Adjective 7th
Grade won the Penny War! The 6th and 8th	graders vowed to make su	re the 7th grade would	suffer for their victory. Though,	we all know their win is tr	uly a win for Noun	-Number-Repeat and Noun-Number-Repeat of people through	the Heifer Project. Thanks	to the Lord, all of thos	se people will benefit from theand	Adjective animals they	will receive as we serv	e God not only with our songs, but our savings of pennies.
God is good. All time, God is good!
