

The Baby Who Almost Destroyed the World

1. Verb - Past Tense _____
2. Noun _____
3. Adverb _____
4. Noun _____
5. Verb - Past Tense _____
6. Food _____
7. Adjective _____
8. Adverb _____
9. Noun - Plural _____
10. Stage Of Life _____
11. Time Of Day _____
12. Same Noun As Previous _____
13. Adverb Ending In -Er _____
14. Adverb Ending In -Er _____
15. Same Noun As Previous _____
16. Body Part _____
17. Adjective - Ends In Est _____
18. Color _____
19. Mode Of Transportation _____
20. Adjective _____
21. Adjective _____
22. Taste Ending In -Ly _____

23. Any Noun Associated With The Human Body
24. Animal
25. Distance - Close Far Away From Etc
26. Spacial Relationship - Over Under Near Etc
27. Racial Slur

The Baby Who Almost Destroyed the World

a baby _____ into a _____ and farted _____ and destroyed the whole world with the methane gas from eating one _____ of _____ food. Her _____ uncle cried _____ as the world tumbled around him. He cried all of his _____ into a bucket of _____ fish that he had caught on the lake that _____ day _____ and as his _____ filled the bucket the small fish began to wiggle and grow _____ and _____. As the _____ continued to pour the fish continued to grow and then just as the fish grew large enough, the uncle grabbed onto the _____ fin of the _____ fish and _____ off into the _____ apocalypse sky straight into the sun. As he and the fish were both blinded by the sun's _____ light the diverted from their course and managed to plug the giant hole in the ozone layer caused by the baby's _____ gassy discharge. The man and his fish stayed stuck in the _____ hole in the ozone like a _____ in a 6 pack ringer. Accidental martyrs, the man and the fish were memorialized forever in statue placed _____ mt. _____.