Melanie has watched this soon-to-be-sister transform from a Adjective Adjective girl into an impressively Adjective teenager that she is today. She has watched her go from little kid Body Part - Plural, to braces, to grown up teeth. They've had so many good times over the last Number years, from having a wild party on the poop Noun, to Sport - ends in ING, to going out to dinner, to coordinating dance moves to music videos that they'll one day finish, to relaxing and playing games. One of Melanie's favorite memories with this soon-to-be-sister is Verb - Present ends in ING Melanie's brother and sister by calling back as the infamous Company employee. When they made the call, Melanie thought it would just be funny, but her little soon-to-be-sister was so Adjective at it, such a convincing employee of the Herrs Food company, that Melanie's family actually believed that Herrs was returning their call. And that's not all she's good at, she's good at so much more. Melanie has been so impressed with the Noun - Plural she has already put together at such a young age. Her creativity is only matched by her talent on the stage. She is an absolutely Adjective dancer, and watching her preform from Snow Queen to The Nutcracker, never ceases to amaze basically anyone watching. When she is onstage she simply lights up, and Melanie knows this soon to-be-sister is destined for Adjective things in the dance world. Not only does she Verb ballet exquisitely, but her point is incredible as well. When she puts her mind to it, there's nothing she can't do, including remembering the Noun of almost all of the people she meets in a given moment. They always have so much fun together and so Melanie is excited to see what fun they have in the time to come before Melanie's Noun.

So, Full Name of a Person, will you please do me the honor of being my Pronoun as I marry your
