It's A?

Are you ready for a story? Me too.

We'll start in the _____Determiner_____ where the _____Noun - Plural_____ _____Adjective_____ grow and the _____Noun_____ _____Noun - Plural_____ from _____Verb - Base Form_____ to _____Noun_____.

Wait a minute. That's not a monkey. That looks like . . .

A TIGER! RUN!

Push aside these vines and we'll hide inside this cave.

Duck your head and watch out for bats!

I don't know about you, but those shadows are making me nervous.

In fact, one of those shadows looks like . . .

A TIGER!

How did he get here? Hurry! Climb that ladder and we'll make our escape.

Ah sunshine! Doesn't that feel good?

Uh-oh. Snakes. Hundreds of them! If we're very quiet (shhh!) we can tiptoe past.

Blue snakes. Green snakes. Even a great big fuzzy snake that looks just like . . .

A TIGER! RUN!

Yikes! He's gaining on us! Our only chance is to leap for that rope and swing across this canyon. Now let go!

Whomp! We made it! Good thing we landed someplace soft. A bed of flowers? A pile of leaves? A giant orange-and-black pillow? No, we landed on top of . . . A TIGER!

Now we're really in trouble!

Quick! Climb this rock and slide down the hill. Bumpity-bumpity-bump-bump-bump!

Yes!

A boat! Hop on deck and raise the anchor. Full steam ahead, Captain!

Safe at last.

Say, I've never seen a sea captain with a tail before, have you? You don't think it could be . . . A TIGER! NOT AGAIN!

Jump overboard or we'll end up as lunch!

Swim! Swim! Splash! Splash! Splash! I know you're tired, but don't slow down! We're in luck! There's an island and a chest! Open the lid - I bet we'll find . . . A TIGER! And he wants to eat us! ROAR!

Wait a minute. He doesn't want to eat us. He was only yawning. If we scratch his ears and rub his belly, maybe he'll go to sleep. Better yet, let's tell him a story.

We'll start in the jungle where the tall trees grow and the monkeys swing from vine to vine. Wait a minute, that's not a monkey. That looks like . . . a CROCODILE!
