Erin & Joe's Story

About Erin

Erin grew up in south western Ohio near _____Location_____ and after graduating from high school, went on to Miami University in Oxford. During her college years, she started playing a video game called World of Warcraft.

About Joe

Joe grew up in northern Illinois near St. Charles. After graduating from high school, he moved on to Illinois State University in Bloomington. While managing a dairy farm near St. Charles, Joe started playing a video game called World of Warcraft and then moved to Montgomery, Alabama.

How we met

There are millions of users who play World of Warcraft and they are all split across dozens of servers. Joe and Erin happened to play on the same server and, in fact, joined the same guild (or group) of players named House of Wrath. They slowly built their relationship over time and the internet and finally moved in together in July of 2010. Though the long distance was trying at times, they pulled through and have decided to merge their lives together into one.

A note from Erin:

Even though our story may not be conventional, it is definitely special. It sure seems as though fate took the reigns in our lives and steered us together. And I wouldn't dream of questioning fate! :) I'm the happiest I've ever been and I attribute that completely to the joy and fulfillment I get from being with Joe. What can I say? I've found the love of my life and can't wait to become Mrs. Joe Mills. :)

A note from Joe:

To think about all the different choices we both had to make to actually find each other is amazing, any one choice made differently would have resulted in a different outcome. I feel lucky every day to have her by my side and to know that she will be there for the rest of my life. On May 4th you will help us begin a new chapter in our life as husband and wife.
