More stories at WordBlanks.com

Thriller Story

1. Verb - Past Tense _____
2. Proper Noun _____
3. Proper Noun _____
4. Verb - Base Form _____
5. Noun _____
6. Verb - Past Tense _____

Thriller Story

Its four years later somewhere in California where Porter _____Verb - Past Tense_____ up from his coma. The nurse who's monitoring him makes a phone call which is later intercepted by the CIA. The man she described looks a lot like the man they wanted death four years ago. Then the CIA agent named _____Proper Noun_____ _____Proper Noun_____ reveals a photo of two agents who had to be killed. One was Porter, the other was his former partner. Only Porter was confirmed death. Porter realizes when his name is unknown to the hospital that he's in danger when found out that he's still alive. He tries to _____Verb - Base Form_____ to the nurse about the fact they are both in life danger but she doesn't listen to him. A few hours later the CIA agent Stewart arrives at the hospital. When he finally reaches Porter's chamber, he's gone. Porter stumbles to the elevator and gets caught by his nurse . She cant stop him and Stewart hears them talking. Just before the _____Noun_____ closes, Stewart shoots the nurse and she dies in Porters arms. Porter just makes it to an ambulance where he hides. He stays there for some hours and tries to get full function over his legs and arms again. That same night Porter leaves the hospital in the car he's in and drives to the address of the owner. He is full of questions since he cant remember much about the reason why he was in a hospital. Just one day later, his escape is headlining news. But he is _____Verb - Past Tense_____ as a highly dangerous man who will kill if necessary. This leads him to go back to the beginning. When did all of this start? Porter started again with the kidnapping of his daughter. Nobody was specific of how she could be taken. As the days came and went, Porter created a timeline of events that could have to do with the situation. He started with finding old newspapers which his name was attached to. Because of his coma, Porter couldn't figure out which memories where truth and which where hallucinations about past events created by the brain.

You know, sometimes our brain creates fake memories because inside each of us we sometimes try hard to forget some bad memories which involved us. By reading the old news papers, Porter found names, places and events which confirmed some of his real memories.

©2026 WordBlanks.com · All Rights Reserved.