The Muffin

Miss Carson was a Adjective teacher. Everyone loved her except that one Adjective kid named Proper Noun. One day Miss Carson made Proper Noun so mad because he thought she gave him a bad grade on purpose. So he brought her a food with a rotten ingredient. Miss Carson was so surprised; she thought he was actually being nice for once! Miss Carson went home and ate the food with her dinner. About three hours after dinner she started Verb - Present ends in ING up and feelin really sick. She decided to go to the hospital. "Oh my." The Doctors said. "Your organ is going to have to be removed very soon!" When all the students heard about Miss Carson's surgery they were all very depressed. Especially Proper Noun, he was Adjective because he knew the truth behind all this.
