Once upon a time there was a prince who wanted to marry a princess. He           Verb - Past Tense           all over the world to find one, but nowhere could he get what he wanted.

One evening a terrible storm came. Suddenly a knocking was heard at the city gate, and the old king went to open it.

It was a princess standing out there in front of the gate. She was covered in mud. But she swore she was a princess anyways.

The queen thought to herself, "she looks like a frog." A pea was placed at the bottom of her bed and 40 mattresses were placed on top.

On this the princess had to lie all night. In the morning she was asked how she had slept.

"Oh, very badly!" said she. Heaven only knows what was in the bed, but I was lying on something hard, so that I am black and blue all over my body. It's horrible!"

Now they knew that she was a real princess because she had felt the pea right through the forty mattresses

Nobody but a real princess could be as sensitive as that.

So the prince took her for his wife, for now he knew that he had a real princess.
