Tea Party

One afternoon, two best friends named Jenna and Sasha were having a tea party. This tea party was at Jenna's _____Noun_____. They were wearing pink and purple _____Adjective_____ dresses and making REAL tea and cookies ! First, they got the tea party set and made up the _____Noun_____. Jenna's mom asked the girls to get the cookie dough as she told them about cooking the cookies. She said that the _____Noun_____ had to be 350 degrees so that the chocolate chunks in the cookies would get soft then _____Verb - Past Participle_____. The girls got a cookie tray from the cabinet, and Jenna's mom let them _____Verb_____ all of the cookies. After they were done forming them and placing them on the tray, Jenna's mom _____Verb - Past Tense_____ them in the _____Noun_____ so that they could cook. She didn't want the girls to get _____Verb - Past Participle_____ from the heat. Sasha read the package _____Noun - Plural_____, and the cooking time was 12-15 minutes. After the timer was set, it was time to make the tea. Jenna's mom had helped her make real tea before, but this was a first for Sasha, and Jenna was going to be her _____Noun_____. Jenna's mom got the _____Noun - Plural_____ because they were _____Adjective_____. Jenna's mom heated up the _____Noun_____ on the stove top, so that they could make the _____Noun_____. She told them that the water had to be _____Verb - Present Tense_____ so the tea would make correctly, and to be boiling, the _____Noun_____ had to be at _____Number_____ Fahrenheit. _____Proper Noun_____ got the _____Adjective_____ cubes, while Sasha got the _____Noun - Plural_____. She brought the hot tea _____Noun_____ over to the table and set it on a hot pad so the table wasn't _____Verb - Past Participle_____. The girls picked the _____Noun_____ they wanted and put it in their cup. Jenna told Sasha to keep the _____Noun_____ hanging over the edge of the _____Noun_____, so it could be taken out later. Jenna's mom got a hold of the tea pot _____Noun_____, and poured the boiling water into their cups. Sasha got the _____Adjective_____ bowl and put _____Number_____ cubes in her tea, before passing it to _____Proper Noun_____. After Jenna put her cubes in her tea cup, she grabbed her _____Noun_____ and he mom said the _____Verb - Base Form_____ it until she couldn't see any more sugar. While she was taking the cookies out of the oven, Jenna's mom explained to Sasha that she needed to stir the sugar while the tea was still _____Adjective_____. More _____Noun_____ dissolves in _____Adjective_____ water than _____Adjective_____ water, so that is why you must hurry and stir your tea. However, by this time, Sasha was paying attention to Jenna's mom rather than _____Verb - Present Tense_____ the sugar into her tea, so her tea had _____Verb - Past Participle_____ off to where the sugar couldn't dissolve as much. Sasha didn't notice this until she had taken a sip of her tea. It wasn't as _____Adjective_____ as Jenna's tea. Sasha asked Jenna's mom why her tea wasn't as sweet. Jenna's mom saw that there was still _____Noun_____ at the _____Noun_____ of her teacup; it had cooled off while she was giving instructions. Sasha placed her teacup into the _____Noun_____ so that the tea could warm up. When she took it out and began to stir, the sugar dissolved quickly because of the _____Adjective_____ water. The _____Noun - Plural_____ ate their cookies and drank their sweet tea. Sasha learned that sugar _____Noun - Plural_____ into hot water _____Adverb - Comparative_____ than cold; therefore, she now knows how to make _____Adjective_____ tea sweet. _____Ending_____
