A recipe for disaster

Sally and John were hanging out one rainy day and decided to make a _____flavor_____ cake. They had to gather the materials before they could begin baking, but they had trouble finding a few of them. Sally had a really _____Adjective_____ idea, "_____Interjection_____! I have a good idea! Why don't we just replace a few of the less important ingredients, like the _____Noun - Plural_____?" Sally and John looked through John's _____room_____ to find a replacement. They settled on the _____Adjective_____ _____Noun_____, "This smells very _____Adjective_____ so it must be to use!," said John. There also weren't enough eggs but John was able to find some smelly noodles that were the same color. When their _____Adjective_____ creation was finally ready to be put in the oven to _____Verb_____ the entire kitchen was covered in _____Noun_____. When the cake came out, it smelled like _____Adjective_____ _____Noun - Plural_____. Sally and John decided to throw the cake away and go to the _____place_____ instead.
