Cake Baking Mix-up

One day I thought I would like to bake a Noun . It was for my female relative because she is such a great kid. At first I thought I would make a flavour cake but flavour is her favourite flavour so I decided to make a flavour cake. When I opened the cupboards to look for the ingredients, I discovered that I didn't have any food ingredient . So, I got into the Noun and headed to the Location . On the way to the Location , I was pulled over by the police for speeding. I told the officer that I wasn't speeding and he must be mistaken. He told me I was. We argued back and forth, finally he gave me a Noun . When I arrived at the Location , I completely forgot why I was there. I bought a few sale items and headed home. Once home, I realized that I didn't buy the flour. My daughter didn't get her cake. Instead we went out for ice cream. All's well that ends well.
