Marvelous Maggie

Once upon a time, there was a Adjective girl named Maggie. Maggie was not only beautiful, but she was an amazing athlete and also very Adjective. She graduated high school in Georgia one May, and headed to Harvard in the fall. The first week of college was very exciting, but she soon grew a little homesick. After class one day, she checked her mail, and she was so excited to find a gift card to Favorite Restaurant. That night her and her new college friends went and enjoyed a delicious meal and Maggie felt better.

Not long after, Maggie had one of those weeks everyone dreads in college.... three papers due, two tests, and 4 Noun - Plural (not even mentioning all the practices)! She wasn't sure how she was going to make it!

Luckily, a sweet surprise from Favorite coffee shop came, and she could not have been more thankful for the extra caffeine!

Now, Maggie's mom is no ordinary mom! All of her life, her mom had prepared delicious desserts for all three of her girls. Maggie was too far away to enjoy these treats now, and it made her very sad! Only one thing could satisfy this sweet tooth.... Favorite Candy! Another sweet treat she loved to share with her roommates were Favorite Candy two.

Workouts and games galore meant lots of sweaty nights for Maggie. She certainly needed to replenish her sodium, and her favorite way to do that was by eating Favorite Salty snack. Sometimes during class, she munched on Favorite Salty snack two, and it really made the class go by Adverb!

Maggie and her girls loved to have a night on the town away from the nasty dining hall food. Their favorite places to chow down in Cambridge were, Restaurant near Harvard, Restaurant near Harvard, and Restaurant near Harvard.

These nights were always filled with food, fun, and laughter!

The first year of college for Maggie flew by! She could not believe it was already May and classes were over!

She had a great season playing basketball, and met many new friends. Maggie realized she needed to cherish every minute of the next three years, because it certainly flies by!

Want to know what happened to her after college? Maggie became a Occupation one, married a Occupation two, and they lived happily ever after in Place. A true dream come true!!
