Shelbi Loses Something Important

Remember the time Shelbi lost her _____Noun_____?! That was _____Adjective_____. We were all at the movies and she kept _____Verb - Present ends in ING_____ the whole time, even during the best parts of the movie. We were all like, " OMG, Shelbi, turn that _____Noun_____ off!" Part of the problem is that she's so _____Adjective_____ she doesn't fit in the _____Noun_____ properly and she's like, folded in half. So I guess she has to do something to take her mind off being _____Adjective_____.

So anyway, we left the theater and got halfway to _____worst restaurant_____ when Shelbi starts panicking in the back seat, screaming _____something you would yell_____ I think I lost my _____Noun_____. My mother is going to _____Verb - Base Form_____ me. Dad's just gonna say, "well, you're just going to have to _____Verb - Base Form_____ this"

Then Shelbi starts talking about the time her friend threw her _____Noun_____ in the ocean accidentally. I could tell she was _____Verb - Present ends in ING_____, trying to make it seem like what she did wasn't so _____Adjective_____.

So our driver for the evening, _____least reliable guy you knonw_____, turns the car around and floors it making the tires _____Verb - Base Form_____. We flew back to the theater and Shelbi _____Verb - Past Tense_____ back in to try and save her _____Noun_____. We waited and waited. She never came out so we _____Verb - Past Tense_____ and went in. She had gotten lost inside the place and was walking around shouting "_____type of crime_____" at the top of her lungs.

Clearly

she was _____Adjective_____. But we all were. Good thing she had offered to pay for the food at _____restaurant_____, like she usually does. That made up for the whole thing. Nothing like a free plate of _____type of food_____!
