Lesson 15 and 16 Vocab

There once lived an apiarist and an aviarist who thought that _____ First Name of a Person _____ had bovine qualities.

She had _____ Adjective _____ canines who would always be caper, in other words, _____ Adjective _____. She would always do caprice things capriciously ways, which means she would always do things unordinary. Along with her canine she had an equine, a horse, and the equestrian was her _____ Adjective _____ brother Joe who had to learn the equitation of horse riding. Her equine didn't get along with her felines or her massive leonine. She would always lionize her lion, Bob, because he was the _____ Adjective _____ animal. She also had _____ Number _____ of piscine, fish, and porcine, pig. She had a serpent, snake, named Jimmy who almost resembled a simian. But her _____ Adjective _____ animal of all was the ursine, bear, named Mario. She loved this animal the most. She is definitely a zoologist because of all of the animals she has, but if you judge her on her different animals she might go insane and kill you, so if I were you I would respect _____ First Name of a Person _____ because of how well she treats her animals!
