My First House Party!

I've always wanted to throw my very own party!! My parents were going to visit my family member - uncle grandma sister etc in country this weekend and it was perfect timing! I let the word out at random place and it got around pretty fast because over number people showed up! I didn't even have enough liquid and plural food to go around! My best friend person turned up or down the music, person came over with number cases of liquid which was unexpected. My crush named nickname showed up too, looking Adjective in skin-tight plural clothing and that color button-down piece of clothing he always or never wears. I was utterly emotion!! The night started getting a bit Adjective, the more liquid I had the more I felt Adjective. I found plural food on my kitchen floor, number people were verb ending in ING off my bathroom Noun, I heard suspicious animal noise with ING - churping etc sounds coming from my room in house which happened to be locked. Spilled beverage was EVERYWHERE in my room in house and my animal was let out of her kennel. I was sooo emotion. I had to get everyone out. It took me number days of verb ending in ING before my parents got home and when they did, my little family member - uncle grandma sister etc found Noun - Plural under his Noun and a big color Noun under his bed. How embarrassing, I had to come up with a pretty Adjective excuse for that one! It was the Adjective - Ends in EST experience, but I will always or never do it again!!!
