While attending one of her last _____Noun - Plural_____, Katie was quietly _____Verb - Present ends in ING_____ her instructor while playing an online name the states game. She was having difficulty remembering one state when all of the sudden she heard a voice from behind her whisper "_____Proper Noun_____". Bryan had, apparently, been peeking over her shoulder for quite some time and decided it would be best to _____Verb - Base Form_____ her as she struggled to complete her game. Katie quietly _____Verb - Past Tense_____ Bryan for his assistance and carried on through the remainder of the _____Adjective_____. As Katie enjoyed her lunch break at her friends apartment, she realized who Bryan was and confirmed their connection through mutual friends. Upon her return to class, Katie decided to introduce herself by stating, "You live with Travis, right?" To which Bryan responded with, "And your name is ?" The two began to chat with one another and as class began again, Bryan quickly friended her on facebook in hopes to continue their conversation. Facebook continued to be their primary form of communication throughout that day and the following weeks to come, until Bryan FINALLY asked Katie out on a date and took her to Zoolights for the first time.
