The "Taxi Drivers" (Part one)

A car pulled up outside.

Tyler _____Verb - Past Tense_____ his younger brother's _____Part of Body_____ and told him, "I'm leaving for a few days, Zack. Make sure to feed the _____Animal (plural)_____ while I'm gone and be nice to Mom."

"_____Wacky Phrase_____," Zack responded.

Tyler grabbed his bags and left. There wasn't any _____Noun_____ in that _____Location_____ anymore and it forced Tyler to leave. He was on his way to meet the girl of his dreams and start a family. Tyler had met Brenna _____Number_____ year(s) ago at an _____Location_____ in Minneapolis. He was on tour with his band, _____Adjective_____ _____Adjective_____ _____Noun_____, and she was seeing her _____Family member_____ off to college. Tyler had had time to _____Noun_____ so he asked Brenna to grab a cup of _____Liquid_____. They had great chemistry and her eyes were as _____Adjective_____ as the _____Noun_____. When Tyler had to catch his _____Noun_____, he gave her his number in hopes that she _____Modal_____ call. She did and Tyler could remember all the nights they talked and all the conversation they had.

Tyler couldn't wait to see Brenna again. His _____Part of Body_____ _____Verb - Past Tense_____ in his _____Part of Body_____ . When he arrived at the _____Location_____, hopped on the first flight to Minnesota and off he went. He slept the whole way. He was up the night before listening to his mom and dad _____Verb - Base Form_____ again. He recalled what they were saying as he drifted off.

"If you weren't such a drunk, we'd all be better off!" shouted mom.

"Well, if you lost a few pounds, maybe I wouldn't have to drink so much!" yelled dad.

The _____Noun_____ landed and Tyler finally felt relieved. The thought of his parents were gone and now he needed to find a way to get to Brenna's house. She lived only _____Number_____ minutes away by _____Noun_____ but he hadn't reserved a ride to get there. He sat on a bench and thought. Soon enough, a scraggly man approached him and asked, "Ya look lost, little guy. Where are ya headin'?"

"A friend's _____Noun_____. Are you a taxi?" Tyler responded.

"Well, you could say that I guess," the old man said slyly as he scratched his _____Noun_____ that ran down to his chest.

Tyler didn't think much of it and decided to trust the man. They walked out of the airport and into a parking garage where they met another tall skinny man who stood by a poorly painted taxi cab. "Why are there of you?" asked Tyler. The skinny man ducked into the drivers side seat for a moment only to whip out a _____Adjective_____ _____Noun_____ which he hit Tyler over the head with. Tyler fell to the ground, unconscious. The men picked the boy up, tied his hands together, and placed him into the back seat of the car before driving off.

Hours later, Tyler woke up with a _____Adjective_____ headache. He was in a room full of other young _____Noun_____ like him. They stared at him, waiting for a response. Tyler was _____Emotion Ending in -ED_____, but tried not to let it show. "Wh-where am I?" he _____Verb - Past Tense_____.

What seemed like the _____Adjective - Ends in EST_____ man in there responded to him. "You're in a basement. We're all trapped down here and there's no way to escape."

"Wh-why?" Tyler asked.

"We don't know. Those two men captured all of us just like you and each night they bring one of us up there with them to spend the night with. Those who do as theyre told are returned down here in the morning."

"And those who don't?" Tyler blurted _____Adverb_____.

"Well, let's just say that I don't think they are let go with a _____Noun_____ and a hand shake." said the man.

"I- I need to go," said Tyler quiet but firm. "I need to leave."

"That's not an option," said one of the guys sitting next to him.

"There has to be a way out," Tyler raised his voice.

"The only way out is in a body _____Noun_____," another retorted _____Adverb_____.

The men sat there in the dark basement in silence for _____Number_____ hours before the nightly routine began. All of the sudden, the lights came on and the door slowly unlocked and opened. The scraggly man _____Adverb_____ walked down the steps with a _____Noun_____ in his arms. He stopped at the bottom and said, "Who wants to _____Verb - Base Form_____ tonight?" Everyone stood still. The man pointed his gun into the crowd and scanned over them one by one, ending on Tyler. "Let's go, Newbie," he called. Tyler _____Verb - Past Tense_____. He didn't know what to do.
