

jays job

1. Adjective
-

jays job

Once there was a guy named jay he was always lazy then he went to his mail box he looked in the mail box he saw a paper he read it someone in Australia sent him a job offer the phone number was Adjective the back of the paper then he called them then he went to the plane he put his suit case in the plane. He sat down on a sit 1 hour later the plane lands on the ground he got out of the plane the person from work gave him money so he can buy a house. And then he can buy food and stuff for his house the guy told jay when work starts and where it is jay slept in the morning the boss bought jay a car then he gave jay a tour around Australia then the boss told jay his name was Patrick then jay's work started 1 hour later work finished boss gave jay an award then jay lived happy in australia the end.