

Tomatoe Mad Lib

1. Adjective
2. Adjective
3. Adjective
4. Adjective
5. Noun
6. Location
7. Verb - Past Tense
8. Adjective
9. Noun
10. Adjective
11. Adjective
12. Verb - Base Form
13. Verb - Past Tense
14. Noun
15. Noun
16. Adjective - Ends In Est
17. Adjective

Tomatoe Mad Lib

The year was 700 AD and high up in the Andes of Peru the Aztec Indians noticed that these _____ Adjective red fruits that grew were darn _____ Adjective. They named this _____ Adjective veggie Xitomate and over time this became tomatle or tomato and eventually what we know as the tomatoe. How did this _____ Adjective fruit make it's way out of Peru? The Spanish _____ Noun carried these plants back to _____ Location. Italians and Spanish _____ Verb - Past Tense this _____ Adjective vegetable and it became a staple in dishes like _____ Noun. The English however had a different view believing the tomatoe to poisonous! Now that hurt the _____ Adjective tomatoes feelings a little bit. A _____ Adjective American was the first to grow tomatoes in America. Who you ask? Thomas Jefferson! America really did _____ Verb - Base Form the tomatoe. In Louisiana the creole dishes made the tomatoe into jamabalyas and gumbus. In Maine they added them to more seafood dishes. But you may have _____ Verb - Past Tense we called the tomatoe both a fruit and vegetable in this _____ Noun so which is it?! Well if you ask a botanist they'll tell you the tomatoe is a fruit of the nightshade family but if you ask the supreme court they'll tell you that the tomatoe was declared a vegetable in a supreme court case, Nix v. Hedden! That's right the _____ Noun had to be settled by the _____ Adjective - Ends in EST court in the land. Fruit or vegetable I know one thing the tomato is an _____ Adjective food!