More stories at WordBlanks.com

Cooking Class

1. Proper Noun _____
2. Noun _____
3. Noun _____
4. Preposition _____
5. Verb - Past Tense _____

Cooking Class

_____Proper Noun_____ walked to the city cooking class building. She spied her friend, Lindsey, across the street and ran over to meet her. They walked to class together. The _____Noun_____ welcomed them in and had them sit toward the front of the room. After the last few people came in, the instructor started teaching.

"Alright class. Let's start by taking out your bowl, flour, sugar, and some salt," Ms. Garcia said. Macy and Lindsey both pulled out their _____Noun_____ and dry ingredients. They placed them on the desk

"Now let's dump a cup of flour and a half a cup of sugar into the bowl. Then shake a little salt in," she said. She said to get out some brown sugar, vanilla, milk, water, butter, and chocolate chips. Macy spilled some flour _____Preposition_____ Lindsey. Lindsey smiled and threw some on Macy. Then they ended up throwing it everywhere and then the whole class _____Verb - Past Tense_____ throwing flour. Ms. Garcia just smiled and laughed.

©2026 WordBlanks.com · All Rights Reserved.