More stories at WordBlanks.com

New York City

1. Noun - Plural _____
2. Noun - Plural _____
3. Noun - Plural _____
4. Coordinating Conjunction _____
5. Proper Noun _____
6. Noun _____
7. Preposition Or Subordinating Conjunction _____
8. Adjective _____

New York City

One day a few _____Noun - Plural_____ ago, my parents decided that I could finally visit New York City all by myself, but of course I would be staying at a _____Noun - Plural_____ house while there. I was so excited to see my _____Noun - Plural_____ but even more anxious to see the Big Apple! My parents dropped me off at their house _____Coordinating conjunction_____ there, my adventure began. It was impossible to choose what to do first but we decided on a shopping spree at the mall which was amazing because there were never such big malls where I lived in _____Proper Noun_____. Then, we took a nice _____Noun_____ _____Preposition or subordinating conjunction_____ Central Park and visited the Art Museum on our way. There were a million other things I wanted to do but there's just so much that you can do in a day. By the end of the day, I had seen so many _____Adjective_____ things and, I couldn't wait for the next day to come.

©2026 WordBlanks.com · All Rights Reserved.