

New York City

1. Noun - Plural
2. Noun - Plural
3. Noun - Plural
4. Coordinating Conjunction
5. Proper Noun
6. Noun
7. Preposition Or Subordinating Conjunction
8. Adjective

New York City

One day a few Noun - Plural ago, my parents decided that I could finally visit New York City all by myself, but of course I would be staying at a Noun - Plural house while there. I was so excited to see my Noun - Plural but even more anxious to see the Big Apple! My parents dropped me off at their house Coordinating conjunction there, my adventure began. It was impossible to choose what to do first but we decided on a shopping spree at the mall which was amazing because there were never such big malls where I lived in Proper Noun . Then, we took a nice Noun Preposition or subordinating conjunction Central Park and visited the Art Museum on our way. There were a million other things I wanted to do but there's just so much that you can do in a day. By the end of the day, I had seen so many Adjective things and, I couldn't wait for the next day to come.