

You've Been Furloughed

1. Adjective
2. Verb - Base Form
3. Noun - Plural
4. Adverb
5. Animal (Plural)
6. Noun - Plural
7. Person
8. Person
9. Fictional Group
10. Fictional Character
11. Food
12. Adjective
13. President

You've Been Furloughed

Dear _____
Adjective Employee,

Due to a lapse in Fiscal Year 2014 appropriations, we have no choice but to _____ Verb - Base Form you. While your work with _____ Noun - Plural is very important, your services are no longer needed for the _____ Adverb operations of the government. Don't worry about your work while furloughed, we have found that _____ Animal (plural) are very adept at performing your duties. We know we assured you that you'd have your last paycheck; however sufficient funds are not available. We will be able to pay you in _____ Noun - Plural. Congress has been at impasse and has called in _____ Person and _____
Person to help the stalemate. You do have the right to appeal this furlough to _____ Fictional Group within 30 calendar days. If you do appeal, you will be in the best of hands as _____ Fictional Character has been pointed to represent all appeals. If you don't appeal, grab some _____ Food and enjoy the _____ Adjective show that is the government of the United States.

Sincerely,

President _____
President