Being a UHART Student

This Time of Day I woke up number less than 5 hour(s) after my a class class started in building on campus. After going to a dining location to grab a food for a meal time - ex: Lunch, I decided to go into Dana Hall to get some work done for my other classes in the computer lab. But once I Verb - Past Tense onto the computer I wound up checking my social network account. You know how it is with social network, you log on and end up on there for number less than 10 hours. Before I knew it, it was time that is considered late. I got nothing done and started to feel a feeling. I decided to take a quick nap. You already know what happened. The next morning a male name tapped me on the shoulder. "question ?", he asked. I looked at the Noun, realized I just slept through another class, and Verb - Past Tense out of the lab without answering his question. I ran to place on campus and Verb - Past Tense my relative for advice. My relative said to drink a beverage, do my school work, and to stop complaining. What great advice...I can't wait until I'm out of college!
