And the Noun came running around the corner. He was a Adjective dog. And ugly. And he looked like he was having a real Adjective time. His tongue was hanging out and he was Verb -
Base Form his tail. He skidded to a stop and Verb - Past Tense right at me. I had never before in my life seen a Noun smile, but that is what he did. He Verb - Past Tense back his lips and showed me all his teeth. Then he wagged his tail so hard that he knocked some oranges off a display, and they went rolling everywhere, mixing in with the tomatoes and onions and green peppers.

The manager screamed, "Somebody grab that Noun !"

The dog went running over to the Noun , wagging his tail and smiling. He stood up on his Adjective legs. You could tell that all he wanted to do was get face to face with the Noun and thank him for the good time he was having in the produce department, but somehow he ended up knocking the manager over. And the manager must have been having a bad day, because lying there on the floor, right in front of everybody, he started to cry/ The dog leaned over him real concerned, and Verb - Past Tense his face.
