Wake up before dawn, open mist-nets, go on net rounds, process birds, go on point-count census, take photos of pretty Noun - Plural. Close nets at closing time. Depending on the banding station and the project, work hours can range from 6 hrs a day to 12+ hours a day. My only concern about Adjective - Ends in EST the job is like on a day-to-day basis is that I'll be working so much that I won't have time to work on other projects that are Noun to my self development.

3. What are the worst/best parts about the job?
