

The Wings Story

1. Adjective - Comparative
2. Adjective
3. Noun
4. Career
5. Career
6. Verb - Present Ends In Ing
7. Noun - Plural
8. Adjective
9. Adjective
10. Adjective
11. Noun - Plural
12. Noun - Plural
13. Number

The Wings Story

Once upon a time, when life was _____ Adjective - Comparative and companies prided themselves on delivering _____ Adjective customer service and customer _____ Noun was of utmost concern, Wings' founder, Ann Gilmartin, was enjoying her position as a _____ Career _____ Career with a major airline.

Ann loved _____ Verb - Present ends in ING. She was great at making _____ Noun - Plural feel _____ Adjective, _____ Adjective and _____ Adjective. Visiting new and far--off destinations inspired her sense of exploration. She became known for discovering the most interesting _____ Noun - Plural and novel things to do. She did it all _____ Adverb, making the most of her time and budget.

Eventually, she moved on to positions in sales and marketing, and years later, Ann combined her love of adventure with her entrepreneurial spirit. She founded a corporate event planning _____ Noun - Plural. Wings took flight more than _____ Number years ago and it is still flying high with a global network of experienced meeting professionals.

And the journey continues...