The Happiest Nappiest Great Christmas Morning

Today is _____ morning. I could not _____! I ran out of the bedroom just to be _____ by my parents. They said to wait in my room until they were finished _____ presents. I sat on my bed, thinking about what kinds of gifts I could get. After about _____ minutes, my mom came into my room and said, "Come out now! We're finished wrapping _____!" So I ran out my room and stopped in the _____ room. The beautiful Christmas _____ stood there, glowing more than ever. There were red, blue, _____ and _____ lights and ornaments and even the old ornament that has been passed down the family for _____ years. It's an ornament that's supposed to look like a _____. It says " _____ " on it.

The _____ was to the right, crackling and burning _____. I could hear _____ music in the background. It sang, " _____ roasting at an open fire....Jack _____ nipping at your _____...." I smiled. Then on the mantel I saw three little gingerbread _____ - one for each of us. Then I looked down. Presents! There were piles of presents. I saw one shaped like a _____ and I wondered what it was.

My parents said to me, "Merry Christmas, Sarah." I said, " _____ Christmas." Then we all sat down and they told me to pick out a present. Before I did, I ran into my room and grabbed _____ wrapped gifts - one for each of my parents. I told them to open them first. My dad's present was a brand new Christmas _____. I _____ it myself. It was _____ and green and had pictures of _____ on it. My dad said, "Thanks, Sarah!" My mom's present was a Christmas Verb - Base Form book. It had lots of recipes in it, like food cookies, sugar Plural food, pumpkin rolls with whip liquid and more. On the cover was a picture of a Noun. She said, "Gee, thanks!" Then I opened my first gift. I picked the Adjective - Ends in EST one with blue and red wrapping paper. I tore it open and opened the box. Inside was a Noun. It even came with little dolls, and mini clothes and purple Noun - Plural. I was emotion! Then I opened my next gift. It was a backpack with cartoon character on it! I was glad to replace my old backpack - that one had cartoon character on it. I hate same cartoon character. Then I opened many others. I got a Noun, a Verb - Present ends in ING kit, and much more. I Verb - Past Tense my parents. The end.
