

I Spy

1. Same Famous Landmark
2. Adverb
3. Adjective

I Spy

Hello. My name is Inego Montoya de (funny surname). I'm a top-secret spy for (organization). I've been given a mission to search for (noun-plural) in (country). I've been to (same country) before, and I've noticed that people here are (adjective), (adjective), and (adjective). But they are usually very (adjective). My mission is to retrieve the great (noun) from (famous person).

My mission was (verb-ing) along just fine until (name of a friend) came along. Boy, did (same friend) mess things up! First, I wanted (infinitive), but my (body part-plural) got (verb-past tense). Then, my (noun) stopped working and I had (infinitive) my (adjective)(noun) to open my can of (type of food) I brought for my lunch. (Same friend) brought a (noun) full of (type of food), but wouldn't share it with me.

I finally reached the (adjective) (famous landmark) where I knew I would find the hidden treasure. I (adverb)(verb-past tense) the (same famous landmark) until I reached the top. There, (_____ same famous landmark _____) in the light of the (noun) was my treasure. I (_____ Adverb _____) ran to my get-away (mode of transportation) and sat next to a (man, woman, child, or animal) who looked rather (_____ Adjective _____), but I had no choice. It was the only seat empty. My secret phone hidden in my (piece of clothing) began (infinitive). It also vibrated my whole (body part). It was (person). I was given another mission. This time I would have to make sure I brought my (piece of clothing) and my (camping gear) and make sure (same friend) was nowhere around.

