Rainbow of Vegetables

Different types of foods power up your $\qquad$ which is why it's best to eat a variety of real, natural foods.

Our $\qquad$ need protein and a whole lot of healthy fats. All types of nuts are great for this; our favorite are $\qquad$ . When we eat junk food like $\qquad$ we're eating lots of gunky fats that just slow your $\qquad$ down.

Another problem with candy is the sugar. When you eat a $\qquad$ it might have the same amount of sugar as a slice of $\qquad$ but it also has micro-nutrients, which help your body process the sugar. This means when you eat a banana, you're also eating everything your body needs to digest that $\qquad$ .

When you eat $\qquad$ there is no life in the food, and it takes your $\qquad$ extra nutrient resources to get anything useful out of that dessert.
