Facebook Stalking 101

Want to know what your ex is up to after you dumped their _____Adjective_____ _____Part of Body_____? Learn interesting facts about your new acquaintances and find out about your crushes hobbies so you can bring them up in conversation. You're not just going to know that they were a professional _____profession_____ or that they have an obsession with _____Noun - Plural_____. It's information you have to earn with some good old fashion Facebook Stalking!

For those of you who have never given in to your _____Adjective_____ impulses here are some tips. Never comment on someone's past posts or photos. This will automatically signal to your stalkee that you are _____Adjective_____ and should be blocked immediately.

If your stalkee's privacy settings are tight, consider befriending their _____relationship_____ and going through their profile to learn more. If you can't find any pictures of that person with your stalkee, at least you will find out things such as your stalkee likes people who are _____Adjective_____ and _____Adjective_____ or only dates people who are _____Adjective_____.

And remember, when talking to your stalkee in person, you have no knowledge that they once _____Verb - Past Tense_____ through _____Location_____ _____Adjective_____. Happy stalking!
