Barbara's Story

Once upon a time there was a Noun named Barbara. She lived in a magical place called Proper Noun with Number brothers and sisters, a(n) Noun mother, and a(n) Verb - Present Tense father. She loved to play with dolls and Noun - Plural , but most of all she loved to Verb music and to write Noun - Plural . When she got older she had a(n) Adjective son who loved Verb - Present Tense and a(n) Adjective daughter who loved Verb - Present Tense . And she loved doing those things with them. Over time she was always drawn back to her Noun of music and writing. One day, she decided to write a Noun . She wrote and wrote until she was Verb - Past Participle . When it was done, her Noun brought it to the printers. They were very Adjective at first because it was so long! But her Noun assured them it was worth every Noun . Within a week, her book sold out at the Noun store. Everyone wanted a copy! Her book was so Adjective that everyone who read it bought Number copies - some to read, some to Verb as gifts, and others to use as wallpaper throughout their house so they could Verb it every day! And Barbara smiled to herself because she knew there were many more Noun - Plural to come.
