

A Carrot for New World

1. Adjective
2. Noun
3. Noun
4. Noun
5. Verb - Present Tense
6. Verb - Present Tense
7. Noun
8. Adjective
9. Noun
10. Verb

A Carrot for New World

Something Adjective was happening. We weren't sure what. The tides were going in reverse, when the sun rose it went down, Dracula turned vegetarian, and Sasquatch and Johnny Cash started a Noun that never was heard. Some people said it had to do with an Noun on Noun, while others blamed politicians and professional sports athletes, or the mystical Karana possessing indescribable powers. The one thing we all knew for sure was, it wasn't like this yesterday. In fact, it wasn't even like this last year.

When the world switched directions and began spinning the other way, people woke up. But then they went back to sleep because it got dark again when the sun rose in reverse. That, and people were crushed by the force of gravity when the world stopped spinning there for a moment. Only people Verb - Present Tense far away from the equator survived. People like Sasquatch. Well, creatures like Sasquatch. And Johnny Cash. And the immutable, indescribable, immovable Karana. Bob Barker decided that all the prices were wrong and something needed to be done. And so it was, after a time, that people in power began to notice. Karana, despite her immobility, used her considerable mental powers to sway arctic and antarctic powers to make a call for help.

A call for something different. A new way of Verb - Present Tense. The trumpets were heard all around the northern and southern areas of the globe as other people who survived the great crushing began to try and rebuild their Noun, to recreate it in their own Adjective image in a way that both reflected where they had started, and who they had become as a result of the great changes they saw as their distant family members turned into goo on the ground. Did these heroes of the modern day like Sasquatch, Bob Barker, the mysterious Karana, vegetarian Dracula, and Johnny Cash really have what it takes to rebuild _____? And what did it _____ like when they were done????

FIN