The break-up letter

Dear persons name,

I hope this letter finds you Adjective. I know that I should have done this by form of communication - telegram skype radio etc, however it's easier to write down on type of material. We have been together for

Number years and although we've had some emotion times, I still felt Adjective deep inside. When I'm with you, I'm Adjective. I find your interest in Noun - Plural boring and I hate going to random place - the pet store - my grandmas house etc with you, that's why I sometimes make excuses like I'm busy verb with ING that day or helping my type of person you know - teacher professor sister neighbor etc verb. I hate when I try to hold your single part of body while verb with ING, you move away.

I hate when we're watching a movie you never want to verb and when I lean in and rest my single part of body on your single part of body, you get up and verb like you're totally Adjective. I hate how you never bring me Noun - Plural just because, you know I love the color ones. I want someone who is adjective with ER - greener easier smaller etc than you, someone who loves holding my single part of body or who will kiss me on the single part of body without question. I want someone who's Adjective and always wants to verb with me. I was so hurt when you gave me a Noun for my Number th birthday when I wished you had gotten me a Noun instead, you know I love those! It's like you don't listen, you're Adjective and I want this to end today yesterday tomorrow - choose one! Please don't try to verb me from here on out, my decision is

Adjective

Sincerely Adjective,

persons name
