More stories at WordBlanks.com

Rachel's Mean Girls Mad Libs

1. Medical Treatment _____
2. Chick Flick _____
3. Nationality _____
4. Verb - Base Form _____
5. First Name Of A Person _____
6. Part Of Body _____
7. Color _____
8. Breakfast Food _____
9. Fast Food Chain _____
10. Part Of Body _____
11. Article Of Clothing _____
12. Adjective _____
13. Direction _____

Rachel's Mean Girls Mad Libs

In honor of Rachel's Mean Girls Theme for this round of [_____medical treatment_____], I have attempted to create a [_____chick flick_____]-oriented Mad Libs. This is not my skill set, but I am sure that compared to [_____nationality_____] musical, this will be an enjoyable medium.

Rachel's wig makes her [_____Verb - Base Form_____] of the scene where her Nana takes her wig off when she's drunk. But she should know that her bangs are NOT made of her [_____First Name of a Person_____]'s [_____Part of Body_____] hair. Actually, her bangs are so now, a la Legally [_____Color_____]. Where does Rachel hide all her secrets now?

Ruthie hoped to send Rachel some [_____breakfast food_____], but because they are frozen, they could not go in the mail. Hopefully she'll be happy to eat some [_____fast food chain_____] instead, assuming she's not on an all-carb diet.

Although Spring is here, the weather hasn't fully cooperated. No doubt, there will be April showers bringing May flowers soon enough, as Karen will inform us through use of her [_____Part of Body_____]. Since it is still cold, Rachel can wear [_____article of clothing_____], even though it is against the rules.

Finally, I hope Rachel can see Aaron Samuels to help her warm up. When she does, she should tell him his hair looks so [_____Adjective_____] pulled [_____direction_____].

©2026 WordBlanks.com · All Rights Reserved.